ISO 37001
Anti-bribery management systems

Who is ISO 37001 for? .....

The requirements of ISO 37001 are generic and are intended to be applicable to all organizations (or parts of an organization), regardless of type, size and nature of activity, and whether in the public, private or not-for-profit sectors. This includes state-owned enterprises, large organizations, SMEs and non-governmental organizations.

How does ISO 37001 fit in with my organization's other efforts to combat bribery?

The measures required by ISO 37001 are designed to be integrated into existing management processes and controls.

ISO 37001 is based on the ISO High-Level Structure (HLS) for management system standards. This means it can be easily integrated into other existing management systems (such as quality, environmental and safety).

What about certification?

Third parties can certify an organization's compliance with the standard in the same way they do for other ISO standards such as ISO 9001.

While it cannot guarantee that there will be no bribery in relation to your organization, certification or compliance with this standard can help you implement robust and proportionate measures that can substantially reduce the risk of bribery and address bribery where it does occur.
